There is nothing better for Crafter than to wake in the morning to an email from a customer or just a admirer letting you know they liked your work enough to Blog about your product. Here are just a few links that have been sent to me lately showing my work.....

Thanks go out to Ruthie for that.

I also bought on Etsy some transparent hand cut butterflies that come with little sticky bits to attach them to something from Cle arCutCrafts Etsy Shop

. These butterflies flew all the way from Australia! As you can see I'm going to attach one to each place card. Then each lady can take her place card and butterfly home!

I'm so so SO excited about this Tea Party! I hope everything goes well and it's a smashing success! OH OH I almost forgot to mention that my husband Gerard wants to dress up and be the Fancy Server! How lucky can a girl be!?!

I hope Honey Bee's tea party went well.
