Who says Butterflies don't go with Christmas?

One of my favourite customers from Chesterfield in the US comes from The Butterfly House and ordered quite a few of our butterflies to decorate Christmas trees in their store and WOW they turned out fantastic!

For any of you that live close, drop in or visit their site to see some of their gorgeous butterfly gifts and you can also learn about butterflies as it is a non profit learning centre.

This first tree is covered in all of our Natural Range of butterflies and the photo doesn't do the close up view justice.

This second tree is Called "Pretty in Pink" and has over 200 of our pink butterflies scattered all over. It goes to show that with a little imagination anything is possible :)
