

Written by LadyCCC

Monday, 22 June 2009 00:00 - Last Updated Friday, 26 June 2009 02:33

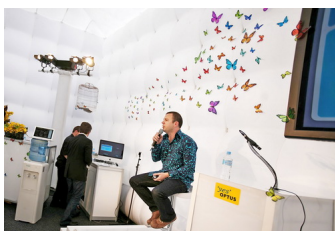

---

Optus prepares to launch the new Iphone tonight at Midnight in several capital cities. We are going along for the ride!

Last week I was approached by a marketing company for 200 butterflies for the launch at Circular Quay in Sydney. The Apple Iphone publicity features the Monarch Butterflies and we happen to have some gorgeous Monarchs in our range.

I was so pleased and did our best to get them off in mail. Within a day the order skyrocketed to 3600 Butterflies to send out to Optus stores and offices. WOW remember these are all handcut and how can we pull it off. Well thanks to friends, families and staff we worked our butts off and made it happen.

A day later the order increased to another 3000 butterflies for more Optus launches, we worked long and hard over the weekend and by Tuesday we had actually handcut, packaged and shipped over 7000 Butterflies for these events. Now we all suffering RSI and are resting comfortably.

Written by LadyCCC

Monday, 22 June 2009 00:00 - Last Updated Friday, 26 June 2009 02:33

---

It was worth it they look fabulous and how proud are we to celebrate the launch of the new iphone 3G S with our wonderful 3D Butterflies.

