

Written by BlogQueen

Monday, 22 March 2010 00:00 - Last Updated Thursday, 08 April 2010 13:29

---

In recent days I have had the privilege to peep into the CCC mailbag to read about how our customers incorporate butterflies into their special occasions. This bride's story really made me smile!

Like so many of us these days, Lynette is acutely budget-conscious, not just because of the challenging economy in general, but because she proudly proclaims herself "a penny-pincher from way back!"

An earlier purchase of CCC butterflies inspired Lynette to choose them again for the decor and accessories used at her frankly frugal wedding.

How did she do it? Shopping through our Etsy store, she selected these elements:

Written by BlogQueen

Monday, 22 March 2010 00:00 - Last Updated Thursday, 08 April 2010 13:29

---

~~on the 7th of March 2010, I was contacted by the author of the article, who was very helpful and provided me with the necessary information to be able to contact the author.~~